

Editors' Note

In an endeavour to comply with a widely-felt wish for the speedy publication of these Proceedings we have been unable to submit to the authors the final versions of their papers or of the discussions. Consequently imperfections may exist for which we ask indulgence. We also present our apologies to those authors whose contributions have been reduced in size, though not, we hope, in substance.

Mme A.-A. Martin was in charge of the Proceedings Secretariat. We thank her as well as Mme J. Vergeylen and Miss S. Bloch for the very efficient work they performed in typing and mounting these Proceedings. We are indebted to the Scientific Secretaries for assisting us in proof-reading and to the CERN Scientific Information Service for preparing the photographs and carrying out the offset printing.
