Hosted by SPring-8/Kyoto University

Conference Dates & Venue

August 26-31, 2012

Nara, Japan

Nara occupies an important position in history as it was the location of Japan's first state.

The ancient capital, Nara Heijo-kyo was established in 710 A.D. It was an international city modeled on the capital of Tang Dynasty China, Changan.

This long history means that Nara is also the home of several World Heritage sites, such as Todaiji Temple and Horyuji Temple. The prefecture also has numerous Buddhist works of art and architecture that have been classified as National Treasures or Important Cultural Assets.
